- 41.1.1 This clause 41 should be read in conjunction with clause 11.

41.2 Suicide and Self-Inflicted Injuries

41.2.1 A Total and Temporary Disablement Benefit or Partial and Temporary Disablement Benefit will not be payable in respect of an Insured Person under this policy where the claim arises directly or indirectly from any of the following:

- (a) suicide or attempted suicide while sane or insane;
- (b) a deliberate self-inflicted act or injury while sane or insane; and
- (c) a deliberate self-destruction while sane or insane.

41.3 Unemployment

41.3.1 Total and Temporary Disablement Benefit or Partial and Temporary Disablement Benefit will not be payable in respect of an Insured Person not in the Casual Insurance Arrangements under this policy where the Insured Person is not Gainfully Employed at the Date of Disablement.

41.3.2 A Total and Temporary Disablement Benefit or Partial and Temporary Disablement Benefit will not be payable in respect of an Insured Person under the Casual Insurance Arrangements if:

- (a) the Insured Person is Gainfully Employed and the Date of Disablement of the Insured Person is in excess of 3 months from the date the Insured Person last worked;
- (b) The Insured Person is not Gainfully Employed and the Date of Disablement is in excess of 3 months after the Insured Person was last Gainfully Employed; or
- (c) the Insured Person is not Gainfully Employed at the Date of Disablement and was terminated from their previous employment.

41.4 Waiting Period Exclusion

41.4.1 If an Insured Person reduces their Waiting Period, their new Waiting Period will only become applicable after the previous Waiting Period has passed from the date the Insured Person reduced their Waiting Period.

41.4.2 If an Injury or Illness was to occur, and the Date of Disablement was between the date the Insured Person applied for a reduced Waiting Period, and the number of days of the previous Waiting Period, then the Waiting Period the Insured Person must serve will be the previous Waiting Period.

42 Cessation and Reduction of Insurance Benefits

42.1 Insurance Benefits – Sick Leave and Other Leave

42.1.1 If an Insured Person, whilst they are claiming or entitled to claim a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, makes a claim for or receives:

- (a) any sick leave payment (for the avoidance of doubt, this does not include sick leave entitlements that are automatically accrued whilst a Member is receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit.); or
- (b) any annual, recreational, long service or other personal leave payment by the Insured Person's employer, payment of the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit will be suspended for such time as the Insured Person receives payment as specified in 42.1.1. For the avoidance of doubt, this clause operates to interrupt Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit payments, but subject to this interruption of payments it does not disentitle the Insured Person from being paid the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit for the full Benefit Period.

42.2 Reduction of Insurance Benefits - Other

- 42.2.1 If an Insured Person, whilst they are claiming or entitled to claim a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, is entitled to Other Income, whether actually received or not, the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit will be reduced by the amount of the Other Income received so that the combined total of the income receivable from the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit and the Other Income is not more than 87.75% of the Insured Person's Pre-Disability Income (inclusive of a 12.75% Contribution Replacement Benefit).

42.3 Reduction of Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit due to lump sum

- 42.3.1 If any of the benefits payable to an Insured Person under clauses 42.1 to 42.2 or payable as Other Income cease due to a commuted lump sum, QInsure will convert the lump sum to an equivalent monthly payment deemed to be 1/60th of the lump sum payment and the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit will be reduced by this amount for a period of up to 60 months from the date of the lump sum payment. For the avoidance of doubt, any income or benefits that reflects accrued annual leave, leave loading or long service leave or redundancy pay (excluding payment in lieu of notice) received as a result of an employment arrangement ceasing is not considered a commuted lump sum in accordance with this clause.

42.4 Cessation of Insurance Benefits

- 42.4.1 If, in QInsure's opinion, an Insured Person ceases to suffer from Total and Temporary Disablement or Partial and Temporary Disablement, QInsure, from the date QInsure deems the member to be neither Totally and Temporarily Disabled nor Partially and Temporarily Disabled, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.2 If an Insured Person becomes entitled to claim a Terminal Illness Benefit or Total and Permanent Disablement Benefit while receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit and has a Benefit Period of 3 years or less, QInsure, from the date QInsure determines that the Insured Person suffers a Total and Permanent Disablement or Terminal Illness, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Insured Person's Benefit Period is 5 years or To Age 65, the Insured Person's Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit will not cease by virtue of this clause 42.4.2.
- 42.4.3 If the Insured Person dies whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date of the Insured Person's death, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.4 If the Insured Person reaches the Cover Expiry Age whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the member reaches the Cover Expiry Age will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.5 If the Insured Person reaches the end of their Benefit Period whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the Insured Person reaches the end of their Benefit Period, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.6 If the Insured Person becomes engaged in a new business, employment or occupation (unless on an Approved Graduated Return to Work Program) whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the Insured Person first becomes engaged in the new business, employment or occupation, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person unless approved in writing by QInsure.

- 42.4.7 If the Insured Person receives an increase in earnings resulting from an existing business, existing employment or occupation (unless on an Approved Graduated Return to Work Program) whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the Insured Person first received the increase in earnings, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person, unless approved in writing by QInsure.
- 42.4.8 If the Insured Person refuses to participate in any rehabilitation or retraining program approved by QInsure whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date of refusal, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.9 If the Insured Person is no longer following the advice of an appropriate Medical Practitioner whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the Insured Person ceased to follow the advice, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.10 If the Insured Person ceases to be an Australian Resident or is no longer eligible to work in Australia whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the date the Insured Person ceases to be an Australian Resident or is no longer eligible to work in Australia, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.11 If the Insured Person continues to be an Australian Resident but resides outside of Australia for a continuous period of six (6) months or more whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the end of the six (6) months, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person unless agreed in writing by QInsure.
- 42.4.12 If the Insured Person commences parental leave or was due to commence parental leave prior to suffering a Total and Temporary Disablement or Partial and Temporary Disablement whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from the day the Insured Person commences parental leave or was due to commence parental leave, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.13 If the Insured Person has not agreed on parental leave with their employer whilst receiving a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit, QInsure, from four (4) weeks prior to the date the Insured Person (or the Insured Person's Spouse) is due to give birth, will not be required to pay any further Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit to the Insured Person.
- 42.4.14 If the Insured Person's Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit ceases as a result of clause 42.4.12 or 42.4.13, the Insured Person's Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit following the parental leave period will recommence, provided the Insured Person is still eligible for a Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit under the terms of this policy. For the avoidance of doubt, this clause operates to interrupt Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit payments, but subject to this interruption of payments it does not disentitle the Insured Person from being paid the Monthly Benefit or Partial Monthly Benefit for the full Benefit Period.

- (f) the Unitised IP Cover will continue for a maximum period of up to thirteen (13) months from the date the last Superannuation Contribution relating to the Insured Person was received, unless the Insured Person has permanently opted in pursuant to clause 2.1.4 of Schedule 8 or a Superannuation Contribution relating to the Insured Person is received, in which case the 13 month period will restart.

Calculation of premiums paid by the Trustee

The Trustee will pay premiums to QInsure calculated on the following basis:

1. The amounts listed above in Schedule 1 reflect the insurance cost charged to an Insured Person by the Trustee ("The Rate");
2. The sum of The Rate for all Insured Persons will be divided by 0.85 to determine the total insurance cost ("Total Insurance Cost");
3. The Total Insurance Cost will be adjusted as follows to determine the insurance premium to be paid by the Trustee:

$$\text{Insurance premium} = (\text{Total Insurance Cost} \times (1 + b)) - a$$

Where a = The annual amount of costs incurred by the Trustee in relation to the provision of insurance to members (agreed and approved by the parties) / 12. The cost will be apportioned to the Death Benefit Cover premium, Total and Permanent Disablement Cover premium and Income Protection Cover premium based on the proportion of the Total Insurance Cost that each benefit's total cost forms (e.g. Death Benefit Cover proportion = Death Benefit Cover total cost / Total Insurance Cost)

Where b = 2% participating policy loading (par margin) in accordance with clause 17 of this policy.

When an Occupational Rating is multiplied by the Occupational Rates, premiums for Unitised Cover and Unitised IP Cover will be rounded up to two decimal places whereas percentages of Salary IP Cover Amount will be rounded up to three decimal places

4. For the avoidance of doubt, in respect of the formula for the insurance premium above, the amount equal to "Total Insurance Cost" represents the part of the insurance premium that is payable by the Trustee which relates to the Trustee's liability to provide Insured Benefits to Members under the Trust Deed as agreed to under this Policy.
